

FEATURED PRESENTERS :

Cecil Bilbo

The Academy of Fire Sprinkler Technology

Cecil Bilbo is the President and Director of Engineering Technology at the Academy of Fire Sprinkler Technology in Champaign, Illinois. The Academy offers the curriculum for the world's first degree specifically for fire sprinkler design technicians. He has 25 years of experience in the installation and design of fire sprinkler systems. He serves as a consultant to the National Fire Sprinkler Association. He is a principal member of the NFPA 13 Committee on Sprinkler System Installation Criteria and is an original member of the NFPA 3 Committee on the Commissioning and Integrated Testing of Fire and Life Safety Systems.

Tom Lia

Executive Director of the Northern Illinois Fire Sprinkler advisory Board (NIFSAB).

Tom Lia is the former Fire Marshal of the Orland Fire Protection District, with 19 years experience. He is the former Fire Science Program Coordinator at Moraine Valley Community College. Tom has his Masters Degree in Public Safety Administration and is a certified FOIII through the OFSM. Concurrent with his position with NIFSAB, Tom is a Fire Commissioner with the Orland Fire Protection District. Tom was president of the Illinois Fire Inspectors Association. Tom has been at NIFSAB for 11 years working with fire and building officials on fire sprinkler training, code issues and public education.

Jason Webb

Belton Fire Department

Jason Webb is the Assistant Chief/Fire Marshal for the Belton, MO Fire department in suburban Kansas City. Chief Webb has over 22 years of fire service experience and spent a decade on an engine company as a firefighter/paramedic prior to moving to the fire prevention bureau. His background in building construction and passion for risk management provide him a unique perspective into today's fire problem. He is a certified Fire Inspector, Fire Plans Examiner, Fire Investigator, Fire Service Instructor, and Firefighter. Jason currently serves as President of the Fire Marshals' Association of MO and co-owns a training and consulting firm specializing in fire prevention and risk-management.
